

THE ART OF LOVING THE GUITAR

They are guitar classes focused on connecting with the true enjoyment of playing. Traditionally, the aim has been to teach how to play an instrument from obligation, rigidity, perfection, and trying to be better than others or prove something to someone.

Finally we forget all this and discover, with the eyes of a child who plays, an intimate relationship with the instrument. The guitar then becomes our tool to express what is inside each one, simply to enjoy.

It only consists of that, enjoying playing.
